Dr. Steven Victor of Victor Dermatology and Rejuvenation speaks on his practice's move to a new facility, as well as the launch of a new practice website.

New York, NY – April 17, 2013 – After 25 years at their previous location, New York's Victor Dermatology and Rejuvenation has moved to a new facility on Park Avenue. In addition, they have recently launched a new, redesigned website that showcases the large number of general and cosmetic dermatological services they offer. Victor Dermatology and Rejuvenation's Dr. Steven Victor recently sat down to discuss these new advances and what they mean for his practice.

"We're excited to be taking these new steps for our practice," Dr. Victor explains. "The move signifies the growth of Victor Dermatology and Rejuvenation and its affiliate, ReGen Medical, PC, as we evolve to meet the growing demands of our patients. By moving to our new spacious, state-of-the-art facility and launching our new website, we can further provide our patients with the outstanding, patient-centric care we have become known for."

Detailing his practice's new office, Dr. Victor offered, "The clientele of Victor Dermatology and Rejuvenation is sophisticated and discerning, and we wanted an office that reflected that. For a year, I've worked to put together an elegant, state-of-the-art office that will accurately represent what this practice is all about. Consisting of 2 operating rooms, 8 treatment rooms, and a Tissue Processing Laboratory, we are looking forward to seeing our patients reap the benefits of this facility."

"Our practice's location is not the only thing that is new," explains Dr. Victor. "We have recently launched a new website to represent our practice, offering detailed procedural pages, before-and-after photo galleries, online patient forms, and more. We want to put as much information in the patient's hands as we can before they visit us, to help them stay informed and knowledgeable about our practice and what we offer."

Asked to speak on what a new location and website will mean for his practice, Dr. Victor concluded with this: "Both our new facility and website represent a new chapter for Victor Dermatology and Rejuvenation. It is our hope that these upgrades will encourage patients reach out to us for all their dermatological needs."
